Design Concept:

The long, narrow portico unfolds as a breezy passageway that feels both transportive and intimate, framed by rhythmic arches and open views to lush gardens.

At one end, a casual coffee area invites slow mornings where sunlight filters through. Moving through the space, a welcoming dining table anchors the center, ideal for lingering lunches and candlelit evenings, infused with a convivial spirit ideal for dining al fresco. A relaxed seating area at the far end encourages quiet conversation and afternoon repose with a good book. The portico welcomes you with lively yellows, corals and blues, patterns, textures and several comfortable seating areas. The space is a balance of elegance and ease—graceful yet unpretentious.

The result is a space that feels lively but never rushed, a seamless indoor-outdoor retreat where relaxation and joy coexist effortlessly.
